

Cleary University Code of Conduct for Education Loans

Cleary University is committed to the highest standards of integrity in administering the student loan programs. In compliance with federal regulations, the University has adopted the following Code of Conduct relating to education loans:

- Prohibition of Conflicts of Interest: No officer, employee, or agent of the University's Financial Aid Office will have a conflict of interest with respect to any education loan.
- No Revenue-Sharing Arrangements: The University will not enter into revenue-sharing arrangements with any lender.
- No Gifts or Compensation: Financial aid staff are prohibited from receiving gifts, payments, or any other benefits from lenders or loan servicers.
- No Steering of Borrowers: The University will not assign a borrower's loan to a particular lender or delay certification of a loan for any borrower.
- Ban on Advisory Board Compensation: University employees who serve on advisory boards for lenders or guaranty agencies may not receive anything of value in exchange for their service.

This Code of Conduct ensures that students and families receive objective, unbiased information and assistance in making informed decisions about borrowing for their education.
