

Cleary University National Student Loan Data System (NSLDS) Disclosure

---

Cleary University is required to report information about federal student loans and federal grants to the U.S. Department of Education's National Student Loan Data System (NSLDS). This secure system serves as the Department's central database for federal student aid. Students and borrowers can access their loan and grant information through studentaid.gov, which allows them to review their aid history and loan servicer information.

Please note that this information is accessible to authorized schools, lenders, and guaranty agencies. For more information contact Cleary University's Financial Aid office at finaid@cleary.edu or by calling 800-686-1883